If you could have ANY magical power... What would you have? Why?

Using your magical power, write a poem about your magical ability. What can it do? What problem does it solve?

Have you been using the same words? Find a magical thesaurus and pick a few words to look up.

Create a magical character. Write a character profile for your main magical character. -- It could even be you!

What is the magical setting? What does it look like? What things about the setting make it magical?

What is your magical problem? What will happen in the middle of your magical story?

What is the magical solution? Every story needs a magnificent solution to the problem!

Now is the time to weave your magical story together! Make sure you edit your magical story when you are finished!
